

CONTENTS

A PREVIEW OF THE BOOK	1
INTRODUCTION	3
CHAPTER 1: The Origin of Law	7
Obedience to Law	11
Enlightened Laws	11
Western and Buddhist Philosophical and Jurisprudential Parallelisms	15
The Purpose and Objective of Law in Society	17
Secular Buddhist Law	19
CHAPTER 2: Legal Typologies and Philosophical Models of Justice	25
Natural Law	25
Positive Law	27
Moral Law	29
International Law	30
Righteous Laws within Buddhism	36
Universal Laws within Buddhism	37
CHAPTER 3: Offences related to the Administration of Justice	39
Courts	39
Judges (sutta-dhara) and Judicial Qualifications	40
Judicial Bench and Appellate System	41
Jury	42
Offences against the Administration of Monastic Law	43
CHAPTER 4: Justice and Supporting Judicial Procedure	45
Legal questions requiring formal settlement under Buddhist Monastic Law	46
Legal questions of offence	47
Legal question of business	47
Legal question of dispute	47
Legal questions of censure	48
Procedural Law and Due Process	49
Equal justice under Law	52

Right to a Fair Trial	53
Right to Silence	54
Recantation	54
De Minimis Charges, Frivolous Actions and Groundless Charges	55
CHAPTER 5: Buddhist Procedural Steps for Trial	57
Habeas Corpus	58
Evidence	59
CHAPTER 6: General Principles of Liability	63
Intention or Purpose	64
Knowingly	64
Culpability	65
Punishment	68
Alternative Sentencing	69
Concurrent and Consecutive Sentencing	70
Accomplice liability	71
CHAPTER 7: Affirmative Defences to Liability	73
The Defence of Insanity	75
The Defence of Infancy and Intoxication	75
Ignorance of Law	76
The Doctrine of Necessity	77
CHAPTER 8: Judicial Decision Making Process	79
Mediation	80
Considerations within Judicial Decision-Making	80
Judgement of Legal Questions in Monastic Society	83
CHAPTER 9: Judicial Outcomes	89
Innocence and Acquittal	89
Pardon or Dispensation for Insanity	89
Mis-trial and Trial De Novo	91
Finality of Judgment	94
Appeal	94

CHAPTER 10: Philosophical Basis of Sentencing and Punishment	97
The Concept of Punishment	97
Reformative Theory	99
Corrective and Distributive Justice	101
Restorative Justice	104
Alternatives to Punishment	105
CHAPTER 11: Buddhist Criminal Jurisprudence	109
Secular Application of Buddhist Criminal Codes	112
CHAPTER 12: Gradation of Criminal Offences	117
CHAPTER 13: Delineation of Crimes and Infractions	121
Three Physical Non-Virtuous Actions of the Ten Non-Virtuous Acts	122
Taking of Life	122
Homicide and Murder - Pranatighatad viratih	123
Abortion	125
Assault and Battery	126
Offences against Property - Adattadanad viratih	126
Sexual Offences and Sexual Misconduct Kamamithyacarad-viratih	129
Sexual Offences within the Sangha	129
Conduct promoting the Breaking of Vows	132
Offences against Oneself	133
Offences against the Dead	133
Offences against the Public	134
Offences against a Beast - Bestiality	134
Offence against a Eunuch	134
Homosexual Offences	135
Sexual Conduct	135
The Four Verbal Non-Virtuous Acts - Vaksucaritam	137
Lying	138
Lying within the context of a trial	140
Defamation	141
Sowing Discord	143
Inappropriate Speech/Harsh Words (Parusat prativirati)	146
Worthless or Senseless Chatter (Sambhinnapralapat-prativirati)	148

Three Mental Offences: Covetousness, Wishing Harm and Holding Wrong Views	151
Covetousness	151
Wishing harm on others (Vyapadat prativirati)	152
Holding wrong views (mithyadrsti prativirati).	153
CHAPTER 14: Selected Codes, Laws and Edicts Related to Public Health and Welfare	159
Drinking, Smoking and Gambling	159
The Environment	161
CHAPTER 15: Alignment between Contemporary Constitutional Thoughts and Buddhist	165
Pre-Constitutional Principles and Elements	165
Purpose and Origin of Constitution	165
The Rule of law	166
Separation of Powers	168
Representative Government	170
Deliberative Democracy	171
Establishment Clause	172
Fundamental Constitutional Rights	175
The Fundamental Rights	178
Freedom	178
Liberty	181
Equality	182
Happiness and Constitutional references to the Pursuit of Happiness	184
Secular social duties	191
CHAPTER 16: Government and Just Society	193
Historical Governmental Structures East and West	193
The Concept and Application of a Just Society	193
The Protection of Public Welfare	197
The Role of the State in Guiding the Economy	200
CONCLUSION	205
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT	209
BIBLIOGRAPHY	212