

Contents

Preface vii

Acknowledgements ix

Contents xi

Abbreviations xiii

Table of Treaties and Other Selected Legal Instruments xvii

1. Introduction: Context, Questions and Framework 1

Part I Law and Policy Relevant to the Training of Officers of National Armed Forces as Regards the Treatment of Children at the Outset, During, and Shortly After Situations of Armed Conflict 19

2. Part I(A)(1)—Law and Policy: Content of Rules Relevant to Officer Training—Parameters and Basic Principles 21

3. Part I(A)(1)—Law and Policy: Content of Rules Relevant to Officer Training Regarding Children—Child Civilians 33

4. Part I(A)(1)—Law and Policy: Content of Rules Relevant to Officer Training Regarding Children—Child Soldiers 45

5. Part I(A)(1)—Law and Policy: Content of General Rules Relevant to Officer Training Regarding Children—Landmines, Culpability/Command Responsibility, and Selected War Crimes Trials (1998-2001) 59

6. Part I(A)(2)—Law and Policy: Obligations of Governments—Treaty Law, ‘Soft Law’, and the Committee on the Rights of the Child 81

7. Part I(B)—Impact of Law and Policy: Methodology 99

Part II Practice: Training for Officers of National Armed Forces on the Treatment of Children—Country Studies and the ICRC 119

8. Part II—Introduction and Country Studies (Category A) 121

9. Part II—Country Studies (Category B) and the ICRC 151

Part III Summary and Recommendations 167

10. Conclusion 169

Appendices 177

1. Captured Child Soldiers in Non-International and in International Armed Conflict 179

2. Civil-Military Cooperation: Save the Children, West Africa 187

3. Charts: I) Child-Related Training Materials—Eleven Selected Countries, and II) Summary of Comments—San Remo Institute 191

4. 'Background Notes' to Country Studies—Category (A) and Category (B) 215

5. Sample Training Materials 239

6. Summary: Key Rules Regarding Child Civilians and Child Soldiers 263

Bibliography 271

Index 289