

CONTENTS

Preface	v
Abbreviations	xi
Human Security and International Law: the Challenge of Non-State Actors Cedric RYNGAERT and Math NOORTMANN	1
Human Security, International Laws and Non-State Actors: Bringing Complexity Back In Math NOORTMANN	13
1. Introduction	13
2. Understanding Human Security as a Holistic Concept	15
3. International Law and Human Security: Undoing Exclusiveness and Fragmentation?	16
3.1. Human Security, Human Rights and International Humanitarian Law	20
3.2. Human Security and International Law: Defragmentation?.....	22
4. Non-State Actors: Human Security Beyond the State	24
5. Conclusion	27
Ensuring Human Security in Armed Conflicts: The Role of Non-State Actors and its Reflection in Current International Humanitarian Law Veronika BÍLKOVÁ.....	29
1. Setting the Scene: Concepts and Legal Framework	30
1.1. Human Security	30
1.2. Armed Conflicts	33
1.3. Non-State Actors	34
1.4. International Humanitarian Law	35
2. Exploring the Scene: NSAs and Human Security in Armed Conflicts.	37
2.1. The International Committee of the Red Cross	38
2.2. Non-Governmental Organisations	40
2.3. Armed Opposition Groups	42
2.4. National Liberation Movements	44
2.5. Private Military and Security Companies	45

2.6. Transnational Corporations	47
2.7. Mass Media	49
3. Assessing the Scene: Complex Roles vs. Stereotyped Images.....	50

The Role of Non-State Actors in Implementing the Responsibility to Protect Gentian ZYBERI

1. Introduction	53
2. The Responsibility to Protect Doctrine	55
3. The Involvement of Non-State Actors in Implementing R2P: A Modest Attempt towards Categorisation	60
3.1. Pillar One: Obligations of Armed Opposition Groups	61
3.2. Pillar Two: International Assistance and Capacity-Building	64
3.2.1. Conflict Monitoring and Early Warning	65
3.2.2. Advocacy, Awareness, and Documentation of Violations Concerning the Responsibility to Protect	67
3.2.3. Humanitarian Assistance to Populations Affected by Armed Conflict	68
3.3. Pillar Three: Enforcing Responsibility to Protect Obligations through the International Criminal Court	70
4. Concluding Remarks.....	73

National Human Rights Institutions, Displacement and Human Security
 Richard CARVER

1. NHRIs: Their Role and Character.....	76
2. Human Rights, Displacement and Humanitarian Crises: the Evolving Normative Framework	78
3. NHRIs and Refugees.....	82
3.1. Australia.....	85
3.2. Malaysia.....	86
4. NHRIs and Internal Displacement.....	87
4.1. Sri Lanka	88
4.2. Georgia.....	89
4.3. Colombia	90
5. NHRIs and Disasters.....	91
6. NHRIs and Displacement: Some Common Themes	93
6.1. Complaints-Driven vs. Systemic Responses	93
6.2. NHRIs as an International Network on Displacement	95
7. A Future for NHRI Work on Displacement?.....	98

Threats Posed to Human Security by Non-State Corporate Actors: the Answer of International Criminal Law

Cedric RYNGAERT and Heleen STRUYVEN 101

1. Definition of Complicity 103
2. The Foundations of Corporate Complicity in International Crimes: the Nuremberg Trials. 107
3. International Criminal Tribunals Post-Nuremberg. 113
4. US Litigation under the Alien Tort Claims Act 118
5. Corporate Complicity in Dutch Courts. 126
6. Synthesis: Identifying the Elements of a Corporate Complicity Standard. 128
 - 6.1. Actus reus 128
 - 6.2. Mens rea 129
 - 6.3. Proximity and Foreseeability 131
7. Concluding Observations. 133

The Arms Trade Treaty and Human Security: What Role for NSAs?

Zeray YIHDEGO 135

1. Introduction: International Law of Arms Control and Human Security. . 135
2. The Trade in Conventional Arms: Understanding the Problem and Actors. 138
 - 2.1. Conventional Weapons a Major Threat or Necessary Tools for Human Security? 138
 - 2.2. Actors, Normative Issues and Gaps. 140
3. The Role of Non-State Actors in the ATT Process 142
 - 3.1. Background. 142
 - 3.2. The Arms/Defence Industry. 148
4. The Role of Civil Society Organisations: a Battle for and against an ATT .. 153
 - 4.1. The Battle for a Strong ATT 153
 - 4.2. The Battle against, or for a Weaker, ATT 159
5. Implications for Arms Control Law and Human Security. 162
 - 5.1. State-centric vs. Civil Society Inclusive Process 162
 - 5.2. The Arms Industry's Participation: Was/Is It Necessary? 165
6. Analysis, Observations and Conclusions. 166
 - 6.1. Analysis 166
 - 6.2. Observations 170
 - 6.3. Conclusions. 172

Constructive Constraints? Conceptual and Practical Challenges to Regulating Private Military and Security Companies

Surabhi RANGANATHAN..... 175

1. The Rise and Rise of PMSCs 175
2. Neither Dogs of War nor Pussycats of Peace. 177
3. Similarly Different? 181
4. Unpacking State Regulation. 188
5. Conclusion 192

Towards a (New) Human Security-Based Agenda for International Law and Non-State Actors?

Math NOORTMANN and Cedric RYNGAERT 195

1. Human Security as a Legal Concept. 196
2. Human Security: From the State to Non-State Actors 199
3. Final Observations 202

INTER
The Inte high-qu volumes public i internat broader and coll
General
Wouters
of Inter Organis for Inte
for Glob
Univers