

Contents:

	Declaration	v
	Preface	vii
	Abstract	ix
	Contents	xiii
	Tables	xvii
	Introduction	xix
	Chapter One: Definitional Aspects of Torture	01
1.1	A Historical Note	02
1.2	Enforcing a Prohibition on "Torture"	04
1.3	Distinguishing "Torture"	10
1.4	The Universal Ban on "Torture"	21
1.5	Voiding the "Warrant to Torture"	36
1.6	Sri Lanka's Ban on "Torture"	41

Chapter Two: Underlying Motives to Torture	50
2.1 Findings of the Monitoring &amp; Prevention of Torture Project	51
2.2 Torture's Contribution to the Discovery of Facts	62
2.3 Theft-Torture in other Jurisdictions	75
2.4 Institutionalising Torture	86
2.5 Abandoning non-violent Investigations	97
2.6 Political Justification of Torture	111
2.7 Justifying 'Ticking-Bomb' Torture	130
2.8 Police Revenge and Hierarchical Dominance	151
Chapter Three: Underlying Capacity to Torture	171
3.1 Cruelty: defined and exemplified	172
3.2 Sadism not an actuator	175
3.3 Desire to dominate	182
3.4 Need to vent repressed anger	192
3.5 Impulsion to experiment	211
3.6 Cruelty: an Innately Human Trait	224
Chapter Four: Focussing Cruelty Towards Torture	246
4.1 Re-evaluating the Milgram Records	247
4.2 Revisiting The Stanford Prison Experiment	286

4.3	Recalling Marina Abramović's Rhythm 0	293
4.4	Focussed Forms of Diffused Innate Cruelty	304
4.5	Constituents of Diffused Innate Cruelty	305
4.6	Alcohol's contribution to Moral Disengagement	308
4.7	Elective Disassociation	311
4.8	Moral Realisation	313
	Bibliography	333
	Books	333
	Journal Articles	339
	Reports	344
	Judgements	346
	Other Sources	348