

Contents

FOREWORD

T. P. Purcell

PREFACE

Geoffrey Sawyer

INTRODUCTION

Roman Tomasic

Part A: Choosing a Perspective

1. Futurology 3
M. D. Kirby
2. Lawyers, Law Reform and Legal Institutions: Some Reflections 21
Ronald Sackville
3. A Sociologist Looks at Research on the Legal Profession 45
Jeffrey FitzGerald
4. Towards a Typology of Lawyer Roles 75
Roman Tomasic
5. Legal Association in Australia: Dimensions of a Comparative Analysis 101
Terence C. Halliday
6. The Study of Lawyers by Lawyers: Obstacles to Research and Some Suggestions 119
J. R. Forbes
7. X/Y/Z/N Scales: The High Court of Australia, 1972-1976 133
A. R. Blackshield

Part B: Legal Education

8. Law and the Making of Legal Practitioners 181
D. S. Anderson, J. S. Western and P. R. Boreham
9. Some Objectives in the Academic Study of the Legal Profession 199
Paul Redmond
10. Communicating About Law With the Non-Lawyer 215
Susan Churchman and Tjerk Dusseldorp
11. Legal Education in Tasmania: What Does the Practitioner Want? 224
Norman Dunbar

12. Planning Tools and the Growth of the Legal Profession in
New South Wales 239
Terry Beed, Ian Campbell and Vivienne Milligan

Part C: The Organization and Structure of Professional Activity

13. The Legal Profession in New South Wales 1887-1906 279
Stewart J. Woodman
14. Conveyancers-at-Law 301
Jacklyn Abbott
15. Lawyers and Clients 305
Elizabeth M. Lawrence
16. Lawyers in the Community: Report on Research in Progress
by the Victoria Law Foundation 319
Margaret Hetheron
17. Structure and Financial Performance of Legal Practices in NSW 347
G. G. Meredith
18. Lawyers and Policemen in a Small Town 363
R. A. Wild
19. Lawyers in Government 373
Geoffrey Hawker
20. Lawyers and Planning 389
Gerard C. Rowe
21. Looking at Legal Aid 397
Peter Hanks
22. Paralegals in Solicitors' Offices in New South Wales 423
Jacklyn Abbott
23. The Impact of Technology upon the Legal Profession 433
Roman Tomasic and Terence Purcell

Bibliography 455

Notes on Contributors 499