

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION: UNIVERSALITY VERSUS PAROCHIALISM, by Harold D. Lasswell	xix
1. THE PROCESSES OF COERCION AND DECISION: GENERAL COMMUNITY POLICIES	1
The Process of Coercion	11
Participants	12
Objectives	14
Conditions	20
Methods	27
Claims	36
The Process of Decision	39
Decision-Makers	39
Objectives	41
Conditions	45
Methods	49
Major Problems and General Principles: The Common Interest in Minimum Destruction of Values	59
Community Prohibition of Resort to Coercion	59
Community Regulation of Participation in Coercion	68
Regulation of the Conduct of Hostilities	71
Belligerent Occupation	82
Prisoners of War	86
Enemy Persons and Property within a Belligerent's Territory	89
Termination of the Process of Coercion	91
The Common Interest in an Inclusive Public Order of Freedom	93
2. THE INITIATION OF COERCION: A MULTITEMPORAL ANALYSIS	97
3. RESORT TO COERCION: AGGRESSION AND SELF-DEFENSE IN POLICY PERSPECTIVE	121
Complementary Prescriptions on Permissible and Nonpermissible Coercion	123

The Basic Postulate of Peaceful Change	129
Emergence of the Fundamental Distinction: Bellum Iustum	131
Regression from Order: Decision by Relative Strength	135
The Fundamental Distinction Revived: from the Covenant to the Charter	138
The Conceptions of Permissible and Impermissible Resort to Coercion: Multifactor Analysis for Policy Clarification	143
Part I: The Conception of Impermissible Resort to Coercion	143
The Debate about Definitions	143
The Demand for Ad Hoc Decision	148
Goal Clarification by Configurative Analysis:
An Alternative Conception	151
Semantic Equivalents or Roses as Sweet	155
The Differing Functions of Different Decision-Makers	160
The Analysis of Alleged Initiating Coercion	167
Part II: The Conception of Permissible Coercion	207
Self-Defense Distinguishable from Other Exercises of Coercion	209
Self-Defense	217
Collective Self-Defense	244
Community Police Action	253
Policy Clarification a First Step Toward Minimum Public Order	258
4. COMMUNITY SANCTIONING PROCESS AND MINIMUM ORDER	261
The Potential Sanctioning Process and Its Context of Conditions	280
Participants	281
Objectives	287
Situations	296
Base Values	302
Strategies	309
Outcomes and Effects	333
The Context of Conditions	333
Recapitulation: Some Recommended Principles of Sanctions Strategy	344
Principles of Content for Sanctions Problems	345
Principles of Procedure in the Sanctioning Process	350
Major Defects in Contemporary Sanctioning Process	353
Decision-Makers	355
Community Objectives Projected	356
Structures of Authority	357
Bases of Power	358

CONTENTS

xvii

Strategies	360
Outcomes	362
Proposals for Improvement Multiplicitous and Partial	367
Decision-Makers	368
Community Objectives Projected	369
Structures of Authority	369
Bases of Power	369
Strategies	370
Outcomes	371
Recommended Alternatives in Communication and Collaboration	375
5. PARTICIPATION AND NONPARTICIPATION IN COERCION: NEUTRALITY IN CONTEXT	384
Introduction	384
The Interactions of Belligerents and Nonparticipants	384
The Complex of Claims about Participation and Nonparticipation	395
The Process of Decision with Respect to Participation and Nonparticipation	400
The Policies of Minimum Order and Minimum Destruction of Values in Contexts of Nonparticipation	409
Policies Relating to Minimum Order	409
Policies about Specific Belligerent-Nonparticipant Relationships	418
Historic Experience in Securing Minimum Order and Minimum Destruction in Contexts of Claimed Nonparticipation	420
The Quest for Shared Responsibility for Minimum Order: Neutrality and the Organization of Collective Security	420
Specific Relationships of Belligerents and Nonparticipants: the Balance of Military Effectiveness and Noninvolvement	435
6. COMMUNITY REGULATION OF COMBAT SITUATIONS	520
Military Necessity and Minimum Destruction of Values	521
Substantive Requirements of Military Necessity and Minimum Destruction of Values in Combat: Trends in Application of the Rules of Warfare	530
Claims with Respect to Applicability of the Basic Policies in Certain Situations	530
Claims with Respect to Permissible Combatants	542
Claims with Respect to Permissible Areas of Operations	568

	Claims with Respect to Permissible Objects of Attack	572
by	Claims with Respect to Permissible Instruments and Means of
ana	Attack	614
Con	Specific Defenses against Alleged Violations of the Rules of
ord	Warfare	671
coe	Military Necessity	671
tho	Legitimate Reprisals	679
pol	Superior Orders and Acts of Subordinates	690
upc	Acting in an Official Capacity	700
our	Administration of the Law of War: Jurisdiction and Procedure in tha	War Crimes Trials	703
imp	War Crimes Tribunals and Bases of Jurisdiction	706
and	Procedural Safeguards in War Crimes Prosecutions	721
tior	War Crimes Prosecutions and the Geneva Prisoners of War and	Convention of 1949	728
enh
pub	7. BELLIGERENT OCCUPATION: THE MANAGEMENT OF CAPTURED
orde	ENEMY TERRITORY	732
T	Community Policies with Respect to Belligerent Occupation
cific	Contexts	739
prev	Claims Relating to the Establishment and Operation of reha	Governmental Processes in Occupied Territory	744
and	Claims to Authority for the Governance of Occupied Territory:
cept	Military Necessity and the Maintenance of Vie Publique	744
ing	Claims of Restored Sovereigns to Review Prescriptions and mod	Applications of Policy by the Belligerent Occupant	771 Claims Relating to the Control of Inhabitants: The Policing of
	Occupied Territory	790
	Claims Relating to the Control of Material Resources: The
	Exploitation of Occupied Territory	809
	The Appropriation and Utilization of Property in Occupied
	Territory	809
	The Management of Financial Processes in Occupied
	Territory: Money and Banking	824
	TABLE OF CASES	833
	NAME INDEX	839
	SUBJECT INDEX	854